

Case Study: Academia Engiadina

Ignite the fire for the upcoming time of studies and the cooperation with fellow students.

Challenge

How can we get the new 70 students acquainted with each other in one day and light the fire for the upcoming cooperation?

Key elements

The students experience teamwork and elements of leadership in action-oriented tasks.

By reflecting on what has been experienced, findings are gained and the transfer to future cooperation is made.

The students know each other much better after this day and have laid the foundation for their future cooperation.

”

The director:

« Thanks to the shared experiences gained at this great event, the students are now much better enabled to deal with each other constructively and objectively during their studies. »

”

A student:

« Thanks to the “Stucki Day” we felt like a community among the students from the very beginning. During our studies, we kept reliving the experiences and insights from that day. »

Sonja Geiser – Seminar Leader

Since, 40 years we customize seminars and programs to equip and empower leaders and teams to solve organizational challenges